I love the new look, but I do miss having a link to the page for the Choice month itself. all links from the switch to Choice currently go to specific titles, so it's an extra click or two to get back to the month overview

2024-12-20

Stumbled onto this by accident today: Railroad Corporation in October 2022 is expiring in 2 days (December 22nd 2024). Didn't see any warnings from HB in my emails.... But I did get an email today for Hero's Hour from March 2023 will be expiring on June 3, 2025. I think HB may be trying to crack down on the Choice keys at this point, seeing the increase in expiring keys in current bundles and also mostly unannounced sudden expirations for keys in older Choice bundles.

I have to say that the changes you've made to the site (ie. dark mode and the general UI changes) are absolutely an improvement, I love seeing how your site keeps growing. Keep up the great work :)

Not all heroes wear capes. I have so many wasted keys so I used this to compare against all my steam friends' wishlists so I could make use of some of them!

Reply

2024-11-27

Was there an easy way to get their combined wishlists to compare?

I think this is a good idea. It's in the queue.

Reply

2024-04-05

Thank you very much for this resource; it helps me track the games I have from previous months since you can't just search them from your key's and entitlements anymore. I think that previous comment has a great idea about tracking the expiry dates of some of the keys; I know the last few sets that included EA games had expirations which is pretty gross but on brand for EA.

Reply

2024-03-25

Thank you for making this! It would be great if it also showed the dates on which the game needs to be redeemed by. E.g. Friends vs. Friends must be redeemed by December 3rd, 2024 by 11:59 PM Pacific Time.
